Making the Case for Infrastructure Investment:
Highlights from the 2013 Report Card for America’s Infrastructure

Just released in March, the 2013 Report Card for America’s Infrastructure provides a comprehensive look at infrastructure conditions across sixteen categories. This talk will offer an opportunity to get the first look at the new interactive app version of this nationally-recognized report issued once every four years. In his talk the ASCE President will discuss the conditions of existing infrastructure in the US and will link this with research needs to modernize inland waterways, roads, airports, water treatments collection and distribution, infrastructure security, energy (solar and water) and sustainable infrastructure and many other infrastructure related topics.
